

Wear Blue to Work!

Take a stand against child abuse and neglect!

April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month.

Every factory, business, organization, agency and school can help raise community awareness about this important issue on Wednesday, April 14.

Across Ohio, people will “Wear Blue to Work” on that day, sending a positive message that children are our most precious resource and that everyone must work together to protect them. Since child abuse happens to people in all walks of life, we hope people throughout Richland County will participate.

We ask that business owners, government officials, manufacturing leaders, school administrators and others to participate in this one-day event.
